Fattening Hogs.

Sume Breeders' Journal The process of converting grain into pork by means of a machine called hog is by no means n difficult one, provided the machine is thept in running order. It is folly to suppose and expect that a hog can convert any and all kinds of food into pork. It is necessary that if we want pork, we must feed those foods that will produce flesh and fat. When hogs arrive at the proper age for fattening, see that every one is we hould be condition and is they proper age for fattening, see that every one is in a healthy condition and is thriving. The system must be in perfect order that food may not be wasted. Do not throw in a wagon load of corn, reminding your loos that that is all they will get for a week, but gradually and sytematically work them up to full feed. By containing work them up to "fur feed to be not change the diet too suddenly, and especially use cate in changing from green to solid food. Adopt regular hours for feeding and the animals will soon learn to expect it about that time every day. to expect it about that time every day With old hogs food twice a d.y is often enough but with young shoats I would addise feeding three times a day as by only feed by twice they overload their stomachs. The food should sliways the given at a claim wholesome condition and materiallowed to sour. The barrels or vats in which food is mixed should be oleaned if ther each feeding and all surplus food it moved. plus food removed Peppered soups and stews game pat ties, ragouts and spices even moderately indulged in will exercise deteriorating effects upon a deheate complexion. Women who do not restrain their gas tronomic propensities will acquire before 30 the heated blotched fact we are wont to associate with "high living while the firm texture of the flesh and the supple sluipe will soon be replaced by flabby softness and scraggy learness.

flabby softness and scraggy learness. During invitew years of rather broad and variegated experience studying beauty and the habits of its fan possessors, I have known only one who for a series of years accustomed herself to late hours, constant excitement, brain work and consurable feasting without crasing every trace of beauty. I have her looking as dainty as an ivoly list after right years of such perilous self treat ment as I shudder to describe. Physicians consider the case unique.

Women of nervous and singuine temperament should restrict thomselves to a diet of edge milk, bread, killeds fruit, a diet of e.g.s milk, bread, salads fruit hight broths and the crustace. They should accustom themselves to dunking serated and natural mineral spring waactated and natural mineral spring waters, avoiding spaces and condiments, delicious and tempting as these fiery delights may be. In the matter of diet, the blonde is, by force of phisoclogical tendencies, constrained to stern self demal at table. It is an old saw among doctors that blue eyes, flaxen har and the pink and white face mean struma. Struma is a prectier word than scrofula, but the condition is the same and quite as troublesome. These inflammable temperaments are congestive, catarrhal, gouty and tea, coffee, underdone beef, olly food spaces, alcoholic beverages and opiates concur to produce a general unopiates concur to produce a general un-healthy action of the skin in dryness, pumples, blotches and discolorations

Condiments, malt and spirituous drinks and tineture of iron thicken the blood, and uncture of fron thicken the blood, giving it color and constituency. The philosophy contained in the advice of the expert in skin troubles to a lady who consulted him in reference to a red nose, upon hearing her habit to be a nightly tupple of whisky and water, leave out the water and your nose will soon be purple, it as old as it is reliable.

EFFECTS OF TEMPERATURE
A case which came under my imme diate observation was that of an ashen A. KRAMER, bolomes white lead and whose hair was unreleved by one amber gleam. After an attack of typhoid fever, which by the way, is an effective purifier of the system without being more dangerous than many of the advertised complexion remedies she was restored by iron tomes and liquor, and the element these introduced into the blood dyed her cheeks crunson and her new suit of hair a ruddy gold There are temperaments which are irritated by fish, buckwheat and hot breads Hives, sore eyes and annoying skin disturbances are the outgrowth of

For the slender, bilious brunette whose blood is thin and whose temperament is watery, a free diet of underdone beef and port wine should replace the severe regimen of the blonde. This, rather than colors, are beautiful, and a blonde of the ruddy type should exercise care in selecting tonics. Those containing red wine and iron color the skin to an ugly brickdust and I can confidently assert a natural aperient is more efficient in correcting all disorders of congestion and circulation and the evil consequences of induscretion in diet, than its printed labels claim. When it is necessary to renew the vital energies a two grain pellet of quinne taken every evening for a month will furnish the blonde with strength without increase of pigment. strength without increase of pigment
Not only dict, but climate and temperature, exert a powerful influence upon beauty. The white skins, unningled with chionic or bronze tirts, are hable with chrome or bronze tirts, are hable to disorder from sudden changes of temperature and imperfect ventilation. Strong blazes of sunlight and rude winds are both damaging to this type of complexion. Winter is the season of discontent for beauties ranging in this schedule the first touch of frost stagnatis her already imperfectly circulating blood. She is happiest during the days of profuse perspiration, which is the very queen of cosmetics. Sudden change of atmosphere in a room where the incratmosphere in a room where the mer-cury has fallen ten degrees over night has been known to produce a thick red rash on a delicate face. A mild diet and a mild climate are main factors of beauty. —Em'ly in Pluladelphia Times

Can Your Hoy Swim?
Can your boy swim? No? Then do not trust him in any sort of boat until he has learned the art, and feets as much at home in the water as upon dry land. You might just as well send him out alone into a rowded street before he had learned to wilk. He might possibly creep along all right, and reach home alive, or somebody might pick him up and care for him, but the chances would not be in his favor. So in boatine, the boy who cannot swim but the chances would not be in his favor. So in boating, the bey who cannot swim may get along very comfortably for a while, and not suffer from this detect in his education, but the time will assuredly come when he will have cause to bitterly regret it. It is one of the simplest things in the world, too, and can be learned in three or four intelligently directed lessons, such as can be had in any city swimming achool or from the experts in any country village. By all means talk swim to your boy before you talk boat, and stipulate as one of the conditions of his having a boat that he shall first be able to swim a quarter of a mile without resting —Harper's ter of a mile without resting —Harper's Young People.

THURSDAY EVE., DEC. 20, 1888.

THE state of Iows produced farm producte of the value of $240,000,000 this venr, besides giving a very large Republican majority. Blessed state.

In a letter to a Buffalo friend Mr Cleveland writes, "I am now eagerly counting the days until March 4, when I shall be free." Curious, isn't it, how many other people experience the came QUAY WAS one of Gon. Harrison's visitors yesterday, and the two were closeted together most of the day. It is eafe to say that politics and the cabinet question were not altogether ignored. It was the first meeting between these two men.

One telegram from Augusta says, "Gov Alger has not been to see Mr. Blaine, and that gentleman says he does not expect to see him." Another says, "Gov. Alger's errand here was as the bearer of a message from Gen. Harrison to Mr. Blame, tendering him either the state portfolio or the musicn to England. You pay your money and take your choice, but one or the other is a lie—and probably both.

ABOUT $5,450,000 in gold was sent abroad from this country last week. It was not in payment of the adverse trade balance, however, but it is supposed to be for use in the Argentine Republic and Russia. There is no uneasiness in financial circles, though. Immediately after New Year's the payment of interest by the government and the railroad companies will make currency plentiful in . monetary centers.

By far the most powerful aggregation of workingmen comprised in a single organization is that found in the Federation of Labor, which has just held its annual Convention in St. Louis It has over 600,000 members. The Knights of Labor never exceeded this in number, while at present the number of the Knights is less than half of this total. If the Federation avoids the blunders which wrecked the Knights it may prove to be a great influence for good to its own members, and indirectly to manual taborers generally, Mus. Shaw, the beautiful American whistler, is doomed to be the innocent author of much misery in the world. Her phenomenal success is liable to set all the pretty girle to whistling, and puckered lips are fast coming into fashion. And when the young man calls to see his best girl and sho meets him with a pucker to her lips that in his innocence he takes to be an invitation to sip the honey from them, he feels worse than set back when she shows him the door and radignantly informs him that he is exceedingly fresh. There's nothing but trouble in this life.

SENATOR QUAY, backed by the National and State Committees, has had detectives making a thorough investigation of the facts connected with the late election in West Virginia, and it is said that they will have some startling disclosures to make to Congress when that body takes up the question of contested seats in the close West Virginia Districts. It is claimed that facts will be placed be fore Congress which cannot help but displace at least two or three Democrats who have received certificates of election in the doubtful districts and give their seats to the Republicans.

A now among the Democrate in New Republican to the United States Senute. Hudeneth is a candidate for the Sponkership of the House, and Leon Abbett would like to be United States Senator. Abbett wants Hudspeth's support, which he refuses to give, and Abbett's friends declare that they will secure Hudspeth's defeat, in which case the latter gentleman says he will beat Abbett in the Senatorial race if he or his friends have to vote for a Republican. If the New Jersey Republicans are smart, they will ask advice of their Delaware friends as to how to make the most of this interesting state of affairs.

DAVID BENNETT HILL was not chosen President on the 6th of November, as he had hopes of being before Grover inted him off the track, but he proposes to have a big splurge on the first of Jannary, when he will again be inaugurated as governor of New York. Inasmuch as the Democratic organizations in the Empire state will have no occasion to go to Washington on the fourth of March he proposes to have them all at Albany to witness and lend colut to his inauguration. And as there is no scarcity of saloons in Albany, thanks to his veto of the high license bill, the inducements, viewed from the standpoint of a New York Democrat, will doubtless be sufficient to call out a full attendance of the faithful.

give a personal affront to the man who defeated him. Bailey is the man who originated and circulated the "dollar-aday" story of the campaign, and stuck to it long after every decent Democrat repudiated it. He even brought himself into disrepute among his own party, by persisting in spreading his story after it was refuted by the party leaders everywhere. Mr. Cleveland must have known of this, and must have appreciated the contempt which Gen. Harrison felt towards Bailey, and still he takes the very first opportunity to give to this characterless individual the best office within his gift in the state. It looks like a studied insult, and if the Senate does not rebuke him by refusing to confirm the appointee it will fall far short of its duty. The people, however, have additional cause for rejoicing over the defeat of a President who thus writes himself down as a spiteful and vindictive member of the lowest grade of politi-

SECRETARY OF STATE ALLISON, of Tenpessee, still seems to think that a Republican has no right to get a majority for Congressmen in the Third District of that State, and, as a consequence, he re-fuses to sign the credentials certifying to Evans' election. Gov. Taylor, who is to Evans election. Gov. laylor, who is as earnest and consistent a Democrat as Allison, thinks that Evans' majority ought not to be set saids for mere partisen reasons, and therefore gives him the certificate. Mr. Allison's feelings are destined to be hurt, for Evans will certified at the control of the c tainly get the sent.

The withdrawal of Lord Dufferin from India, following close upon the Sackville incident, makes it warranted to suppose that the distinguished Irishman may be sent to represent England in America. Lord Dufferin ranks among the first of the world's diplomates, and his appointment here would meet with general sotiefaction.

GOVERNOR WILSON, of West Virginia, is reported to have notified the State militia to be in readiness for a call to arms at any moment. The reason why the Governor is alraid of disturbance is because it is rumored that he is determined to issue certificates of election to four Democrats as Congressmen, while on the face of the returns only two Domocrats and two Republicans are elected No wonder the Governor is a little anx ious, for he will find in the end that this sort of fraud will be a serious matter. A Republican United States District Attorney will be in office in West Virginia after March 4, and a Governor who issues a false certificate of election as regards members of Congress is no better in the eye of the United States statutes than my other rascully election crook.

A Surfeit of Beauty.

A surfeit of Beauty.

It is doubtful if there is any one state in America containing so many pretty women as California and any one containing so few as New York. As one walks down Kearny or Montgomery streets in Sin Francisco, one becomes almost surfeited by the unrelieved ranks of pretty girls, with their round, plump figures, their vivid coloring, and delicate, regular features. They are frequently painted, but they are triumplis of nature over art for all that, and could well afford to discard the rouge pots. They do not dress as well as they might, but their figures are so delightful; they look such thorough women, instead of suggesting a stuffed fashion plate, that suggesting a studied fashion plate, that one is willing to forgive Sui Francisco her hold of good dress pakers—Gertrude Franklin Atherton in San Francisco Ar gonaut.

Ice Made with Coal.

The various cold storage companies now springing up over the south and west promise to work wonders in trade and household affairs. The anhydrous ammonia, which is their cooling agent, comes from the soft coal used in making gas. It is driven off in process of cooling. It costs nothing but for fixtures to refine and make use of it. A ton of coal yields twenty gallons of ammoniated water, from which the ammonia is separated in vapor, then ferced into liquefaction by a pressure of about 120 rounds to the source inch. When al-

HOME COMFORT" FURNACES.

Wrought Steel, NO GAS, No Dust, Malleable Iron, Yery Little Fuel, No Leaky Joints.

No one can say that the time was not ripe ior a new furnace. The days of brittle, porous, cast iron furnaces are numbered. In ever branch of manufacture cast iron is being driven out by wrought iron and steel. Every bridge that goes down in a wreck of lives and property is found to have cast iron members. Every bursting cannon which slays its friends rather than its enemies is made of cast iron. Every leaky furnace which poisons a household with its noisome gases is found to be made of the same cheap, unreliable material. Improved methods of manufacture have made steel and iron plate, of first quality, less expensive than cast iron formerly was, and it is plainly in accord with progress in other directions that there should be progress both in design and the material of furnaces for warming our homes, churches and schools.

He took it to the Decatur National | qua, and will sink a shaft on the Whit-Bink to deposit with his other cash, but when it passed under the always careful scruting of the paying teller, Mr. J. A. Meriweather, it was thrown out. The inspection resulted in the discovery that the bill had been raised from a two-dollar silver certificate of the series of 1896 to in this city, died on December 19 at Fair-$10, the changes having been made so bury, Neb., of liver complaint and dysperfectly that the merchant in question person. was easily fooled. He cannot recall from whom he received the raised bill or there would be trouble. Mr. Meriweather says the bill is one of the best counterfeits he has encountered lately. #### The Irish Comedy.

The holiday attractions for Christmas afternoon and night at the opera house will be the Charles E. Verner company in Shamns O'Brien." It will be a big show. 27th. This will be worth hearing. The Toronto Mail said:

Mr Verner was refined and deheate in his portrayal of the rollicking, laughtirs-laving, song stanting, dancing his-hinan, whose heart is an installed by the twin sentiments of love and patriation. He has a fine presence, a good humbred face, and wonderfully expressive eyes. His singing is very sweet, and he toots a jig in captal stip. In fact, we have seldom seen a more promising jouing Irish actor.

There was a large attendance of friends at the funeral of the late Mrs. M. Z. Walmsley, which took place yesterday afternoon from the First M. E. church. The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. James Miller, the pastor, and the burial ceremonies of the Order of the Eastern Star were conducted by Mrs. Mary E. Bradley and Mrs. J. N. Baker. The pallbearers were J. W. Alexander, N. L. Krone, A. It s and she came to the show because her husband was there, and was heard to remark that if the show was good enough for him it was good enough for her-There was no objectionable feature. The singing was fair and the dancing just ordinary. Sara, dressed in black, displayed her ability as a high kicker. It was a but lesque performance to the end, with the usual service of ancient jokes, one being inflicted twice during the evening to the great agony of the gallery gods.

Ex-Gov. Routt at Bloomington. The presence of Ex-Gov. Routt at Bloomington is made the occasion of a long personal reference to that gentleman in the Pantagraph of Wednesday. It is as follows:

Mr. John L. Routt, ex-governor of Colorado, ex-assistant postmaster-general, pioneer resident of Bloomington and extreasurer of McLean county, was a guest of the Windsor last evening and to-day will visit his aister, Mrs. Wilson, at To-wands. He left his home in Denver a fortinght ago and with a daughter attended the wedding of a relative at Decatur a few days since. In the good old days before the war John Routt was one of the lively and pushing young men of Bloomington. He was a carpenter and a good one and always had a "good nose tor politica." He entered the civil war as a private and left it a captain. His career since then has been remarkle in its development. He was chosen to the highest office in the gift of the people of Colorado, and discovered a silver mine that made him a millionaire. Some of his wealth he invested in grazing lands in Colorado, on which have been discov-ored very valuable quarries of marble, and old red sandstone which are alone a source of almost mexhaustible wealth. Mr. Rontt was visited at his room last evening by two or three of his old friends and cronies, and there was a jolly time recounting the happenings of time gone by. "At 63," said the ex-governor to a Pantagrapher last evening, 'I find my-self able to do a bigger and better day's work than I ever was able to do before. I am growing old, and maybe I show it, but I certainly don't feel it." He is rosy and fat and as active on foot and as nim-ble of tongue and bright of intellect as he was a score of years ago. His old friends hegradge none of his good fortune and wonderful success. The fact that he and wondering success. The fact that he is a millionaire and that he can have for the asking any office that the people of his state can give bim, have made him none the less simple of habit and companionable. Mr. Routt cited is an inciient showing that the years roll on apace the fact that a few days ago his eldest daughter. Bessie, was nurried in Denver, to Mr. Harry Bryant, of that city. She a a lovely young woman of 21.

GAVE UP THE RING.

A Search Warrant Goes Inside of a Man After a Stolen Article.

Mrs. Ada Ham, residing on South Main street, has been having some repairs done at her home by Eugene Perrine, a carpenter, Mrs. Ham had left a $20 gold ring with heavy garnet cluster setting hanging in eight near her dressing case and her gold watch on a stand. Both were missing when she came home and a careful search failed to discover them. She missed the ring first and then got out a search warrant which was placed in the hands of Officer Bailey and ∪onstable Weitsel. Perrine was found on the street. He denied all knowledge of the ring, but the officers took him to his home on Jefterson street, to complete the search. Perrine had his working vest hanging against the wall. He went to it ahead of the officers and took semething out of a pocket which he put in his mouth and swallowed. Believing that they were outwitted and that Perrine had swallowed the ring, the officers hustled their prisoner off to the county jail, and after a short interval Dr. Cass Chenoweth was summoned to administer an emetic. The officers had determined to go inside their man with the search warrant to capture the ring, but the scheme didn't work. The emetic acted promptly, but while the employ of Keck & Weigand. The Perrine lost his dinner the ring did not appear. The search warrant had gone to the end of its string and Perrine was left in the jail to recover as best he could from the effects of the physician's dose. During the evening Perrine was relessed from the custody of the sheriff and he spent the night at home. "AH, THERE! MY RING."

This morning a messenger was sent to the home of a friend of Mrs. Ham, who delivered the stolen ring with directions to have it returned to the owner. The messenger refused to tell whence it came. Mrs. Ham is now in possession of the ring and has also recovered her missing watch which a man had found and had put in a safe place for the lady.
